FAIR CREDIT REPORTING ACT
DISCLOSURE

Wittenberg when considering your application for employment, when making a decision whether to offer you employment, when deciding whether to continue your employment (if you are hired), and when making other employment related decisions directly affecting you, may wish to obtain and use a “consumer report” from a “consumer reporting agency.” These terms are defined in the Fair Credit Reporting Act (“FCRA”) which applies to you. As an applicant for employment or employee of Wittenberg, you are a “consumer” with rights under the Wittenberg.

A “consumer reporting agency” is a person or business that for monetary fees, dues or on a cooperative nonprofit basis, regularly assembles or evaluates consumer credit information or other information on consumers for the purpose of furnishing consumer reports to others such as Wittenberg.

A “consumer report” is any written, oral, or other communication of any information by a consumer reporting agency bearing on a consumer’s credit worthiness, credit standing, credit capacity, character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living which is used or collected for the purpose of serving as a factor in establishing the consumer’s eligibility for employment purposes.

If Wittenberg obtains a “consumer report” about you and if Wittenberg considers any information in the “consumer report” when making an employment related decision that directly and adversely affects you, you will be provided with a copy of the “consumer report” before the decision is finalized. You may also contact the Federal Trade Commission about your rights under the FCRA as a “consumer” with regard to “consumer reports” and “consumer reporting agencies.”
